AND NOW FOR A LITTLE HISTORY...

The year was 2016... Two best friends, one an artist and the other a musician, struck a deal. If the artist followed his dream to develop an RPG, the musician would provide the soundtrack.

Over the years, many others were recruited to help, providing art, code and testing. What started as an idea between two friends was becoming something bigger than they had imagined.

Finally, eight years and thousands of hours later, HorrorVale was complete. It's a game
